EPISODE 1: THE SACRED BLUEPRINT OF AI FOR GHANA

Bridging the AI Knowledge Gap — One Post at a Time.

AI. For Ghana. By Ghana.

The quality of your life is increasingly shaped by the quality of your questions.

— AI For Ghana by Rauf H.

Are we asking the right questions for Ghana?

A 16-year-old in Kumasi shouldn't have to think like someone in California to unlock the power of AI.

THE CONTEXT GAP

Generic AI

Input: Give me a marketing plan.

Output: Strategies for NYC, prices in USD, relies on Amazon Prime logistics, references foreign cultural touchpoints.

The Ghana Prompt System

Input: Act as an SME consultant in Makola...

Output: Localized WhatsApp marketing, prices in GHS, relies on dispatch riders and mobile money (MoMo), references local purchasing behavior.

Generic prompts create alien solutions.
Localized prompts build Ghanaian realities.

THE GHANA PROMPT QURAN

- What it is not: Just a dictionary of prompts.
- What it is: A sacred blueprint for prompt engineering, written for Ghanaians. Structured like the Quran—with 20 Surahs (chapters), each complete in itself, each a lesson, each a light.

Read it. Reflect on it. Apply it.

CHAPTER 4: ADVANCED POWER MOVES

> CHAIN PROMPTING:

Linking multiple prompts so the output of one feeds directly into the input of the next.

> FEW-SHOT LEARNING:

Training the AI with 3-4 specific Ghanaian examples before asking it to generate a new output.

> ROLE STACKING:

Combining two disparate roles (e.g., Act as a GCB financial analyst AND a Makola market trader).

Advanced users: Go straight to Chapter 4, then pick your sector chapter.
